Make Progress On Sewer Plans At Orland Park

Progress on preliminary plans for the Orland Park sanitary sewer system was reported by the village engineer, Mark Lovejoy, at the regular meeting of the village board Monday night.

Aerial pictures of the area were studied by the board in going over the plans to gain a better perspective of the routes the mains will follow.

It was reported that tentative figures of the cost of the project may be available at the next board meeting. The board is also awaiting a report from the Benjamin and Lang bond house with recommendations as to the best means of financing the program.

A request by the developers of Fernway, a large housing project that lies between Orland Park and Tinley Park, to waive side walks, curbs and gutters for four lots was turned down by the Orland board.

The four lots referred to lie within the mile and a half radius over which the Orland Park village board has jurisdiction with its subdivision ordinance. Some 60 lots are reported to lie within Tinley's jurisdiction. The remainder of the subdivision is outside the mile and a half radius covered by the two communities with their ordinances.

The developers are not putting in curbs, gutters and side walks and wanted Orland Park to waive its requirements on the four lots. It was pointed out that some neighboring communities waive such requirements on occasion but the Orland Park board has always insisted on compliance with all the provisions of its subdivision ordinance and saw no reason for making an exception in the case of Fernway.

"Curbs, gutters and side walks," Mayor W. R. Schussler Jr. pointed out, "not only give residents protection for their persons but for their lawns too. Such improvements also enhance the value of their property."

The board did not want to set a precedent by waiving the restrictions for Fernway.

The board also adopted an ordinance limiting loads on village streets. The limits range from six to 10 tons, depending upon the construction of the street.

Route Gives Mokena, N. Lenox Closer Link

Work on Francis road and the road leading from Francis to U. S. 30, along the east border of the Lincoln-Way high school site has been started and it is expected that in another two weeks—weather permitting—paving will be completed.

Both thoroughfares are to be surfaced with blacktop. The portion of Francis road on which work is being done extends east from Cedar road in New Lenox, to Mokena.

Trygg Paving Co., Joliet, which has the contract, started moving truckloads of stone to the project last weekend. The road, of course, has a heavy stone base and a gravel surface that has been kept graded for the past two years while waiting for completion.

The extra stone filled all holes and brought the bed up to grade. The surface is being soaked with water and rolled and when this is finished the blacktopping will begin.

Completion of this link will provide a paved road from Tinley Park to Gougar road on the outskirts of Joliet. As a matter of fact it will give direct connection between Joliet and Homewood, by following 183rd street east from Tinley.

It is expected that this road will carry the bulk of passenger car travel between Mokena and Joliet or Tinley Park and Joliet. Traffic on U. S. 30 is usually tied up with trucks. This new road will be too light, it was said, to carry large trucks.

Housewives along Francis road between Mokena and New Lenox are happy to see work begun that should end the plague of dust that has been their lot for years. The only time they have not been beset by huge clouds of dust has been after rains or when the road has been covered with snow.

Whether the state, county, township and Wabash railroad will join in the erection of safety gates for the grade crossing on Francis road, has not been announced. The present crossing is ungarded and there are several trains a day that use it. A line of trees, north of the highway east of the tracks shuts off the view to the north for persons traveling west on Francis road.

Now Zoning Maps Must Be Published Annually, Law Says

(CNS) Gov. Stratton has signed House Bill 880 requiring all municipalities with zoning laws to publish official zoning maps by March 31 every year.

Introduced by Reps. George E. Dolezal of Berwyn and Elmer Conti of Elmwood Park, the new law permits any citizen to sue to compel city officials to obey it on threat of contempt of court. Each copy will cost $5 to help defray the expenses of the municipalities. This was a compromise between $2 provided in the original bill and $25 suggested by opponents.

Water Firm Would Extend Service to Shopping Center

(CNS) Under study by the Illinois Commerce Commission is Ridgeland Water Service company's petition to extend water and sewer service for the big shopping center planned for the southeast corner of 127th street and Harlem avenue, south of Palos Heights.

The utility now serves the Palos Gardens, Palos Westgate, and Austin View subdivisions south and east of Palos Heights.

Applications for assistance of every kind should be made by calling Mrs. Ekberg, Fieldbrook 9-3315. Whenever possible, the problem will be solved within the community, but when necessary people will be referred to institutions operated by the Salvation Army in Chicago.

Mrs. Ekberg said that one of the Orland Park service unit committee's forthcoming activities will be to assist the Sal-

Frankfort Fire Dept. to Hold Dance Aug. 8

The Frankfort fire department will sponsor its annual fish fry and dance Saturday, Aug. 8 in the Frankfort grove, half mile north of Frankfort on route 45, starting at 5 pm.

After everyone has had their fill of fish and playing the various games offered, dancing will begin.

A good orchestra has been engaged for 9 to 12 dancing. The firemen made a house to house canvass in the village and surrounding vicinity the past two Tuesday evenings, to sell tickets for the affair. The first evening they sold $500 of tickets.

The proceeds from the affair is to be used to pay on the indebtedness on the new truck they purchased last year costing $15,000. Frankfort fire department now has three pumps and an auxiliary pump. Everyone is invited to the fish fry and dance.

Marley Church Honors Senior Members Sunday

The Marley Baptist Community church honored its senior members for their age and long membership, at a "Golden Age" celebration in Haley Park Sunday, July 26. Honored guests were present members who had joined the church during the period of 1904-1924.

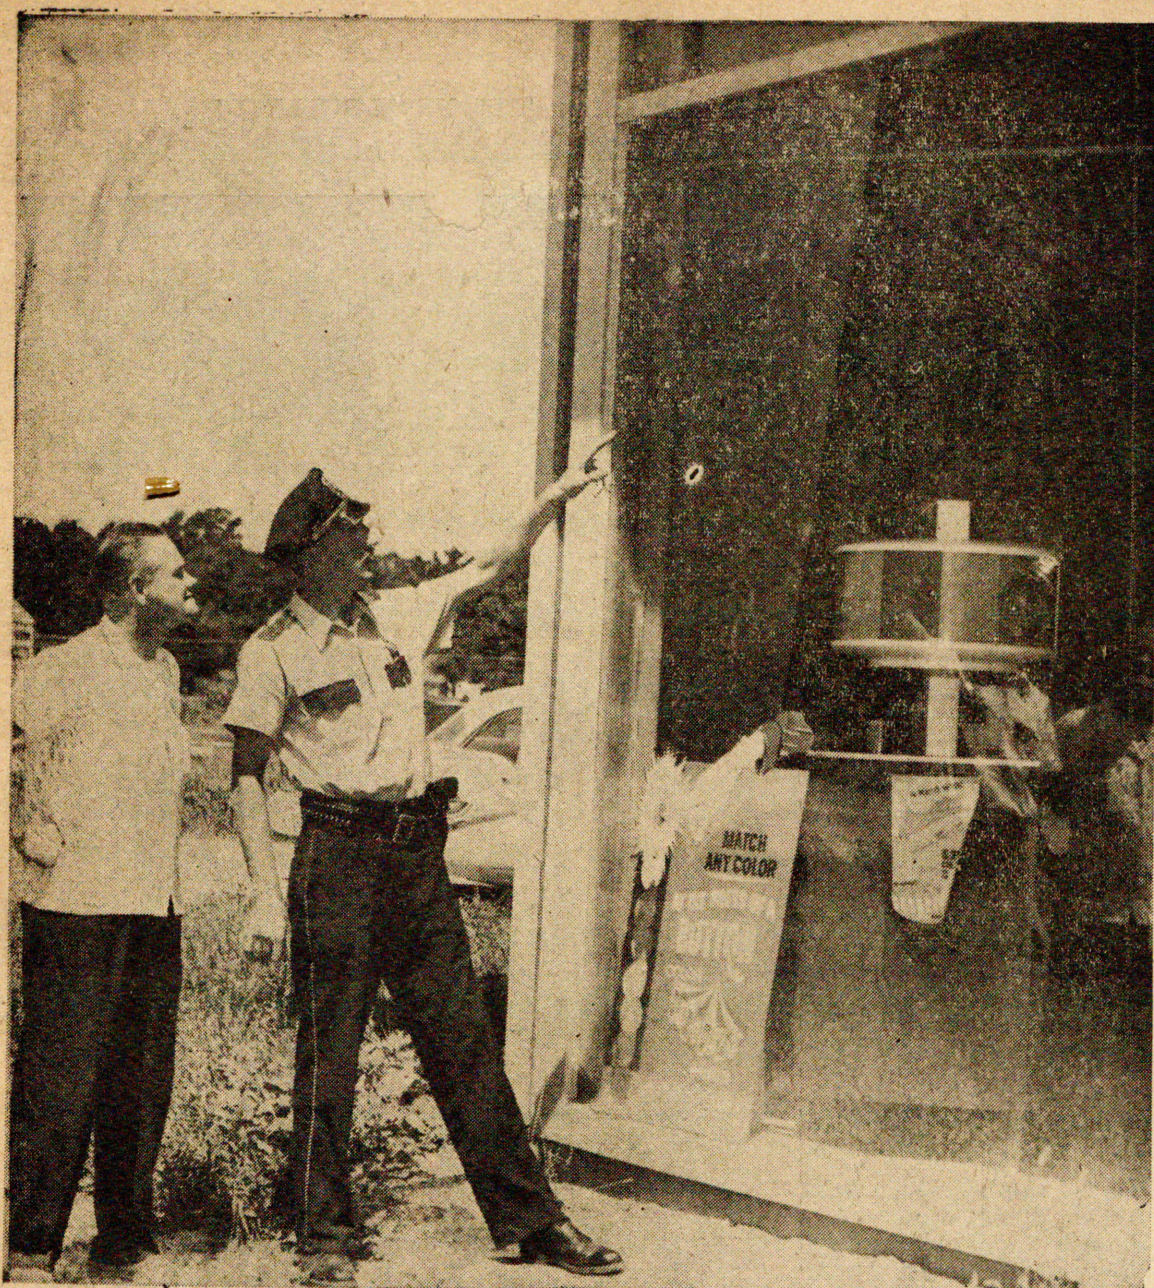

In attendance from this group were Mrs. Fred Lauffer, Fred Lauffer, Louis F. Sass, Miss Bessie Sproat, Harry Sproat, James Frazer, Mrs. James Frazer, Glen Sproat, Edward Sproat, Mrs. Henry Tilsy, Miss Helen Tilsy, Miss Dorothy Tilsy, Ralph Tilsy, Francis Nelson, Mrs. Arthur Lauffer, Mrs. Jesse Marshall, Mrs. Charles Lauffer and Charles Lauffer. There are others who joined during this period who were unable to be present.

A PLATE GLASS WINDOW of the L.N.R. Beatty Lumber Company's Orland Park branch was seriously damaged last Thursday evening. Police Chief Eugene Yunker points out holes in the window to Ray Shank, manager, which he deduces were made by a B.B. gun powered by a gas cartridge, either a pistol or rifle. The store manager has offered a cash award for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the culprit or culprits. (Marvin Smith photo)

$1,000 Damage

Vandals Shoot Out Five Windows

Orland Park police chief, Eugene Yunker, is searching for the young vandals who shot out five plate glass windows in the display room of the INR Beatty Lumber Company on 143rd st., last Thursday evening.

The damage was estimated at about $1,000 by Ray Shank, manager, who counted a total of 13 holes. According to Chief Yunker, tests made convince him the damage was done with an air rifle or pistol, using a gas cartridge. Ammunition found at the scene will be useful in identifying the weapon and names of owners of such weapons are being compiled for investigation.

Unfortunately, insurance on the windows was cancelled when a similar incident occurred before the building was opened last November.

The Beatty Lumber manager has announced a cash reward for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the guilty persons.

A thorough investigation is being made by police as a village ordinance prohibits the use of any weapons within the village limits.

Parents should be concerned Shank expressed, because any one capable of destroying windows with such a weapon, could cause serious injury to a person.

B. B. guns so constructed are not a child's toy, but a lethal weapon, which in the hands of a youngster could cause very serious consequences.

Sandburg High

Placement Exams Set for Aug. 7

Supt. W. O. Fisher announces that all ninth grade students who plan to enroll at Carl Sandburg High School in September, 1959, must complete a series of placement examinations.

These tests were administered to all eighth grade students in the district last February. Any ninth grade student new to the district or any student who did not take the examinations in February should report to Carl Sandburg high school at 8:30 a.m. on August 7, 1959 to take these examinations. Ninth grade students will not be permitted to enroll until they have completed their entrance examinations.

Students will be expected to provide their own transportation to and from school on this day. They are also advised to bring a sack lunch as the school cafeteria will not be open.

All students who will be attending Carl Sandburg High school for the first time are expected to come to the high school and complete preliminary enrollment forms. New students should come to the school as soon as possible. The school offices are open from 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Lincoln-Way Girl Tells of Trip

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received at Lincoln-Way high school from Kay Gersich, of Lincolnwood, a student at L-W who is spending the summer as a guest of a family in West Germany as a part of the American Field Service (exchange student) program. Kay will return in September.)

"I have so much to tell you—but it would take so much time and space—I'll tell you what I have done since June 16th.

"On June 16, my mother and I took a jet plane from Chicago to New York. While in New York we went to the Jack Paar show, took a tour, saw the United Nations, Empire State building, Chinatown, Statue of Liberty and many other interesting sights. The Hotel New Yorker and another hotel were full of AFS'ers (American Field Service students) and more kept coming Wednesday night and Thursday morning. At 8 Thursday morning all of the AFS'ers assembled in the Ballroom of the Hotel New Yorker where Mr. Galetti, head of AFS, spoke to us and introduced the shipboard AFS staff. Country by country all the students boarded buses. When we finally arrived, the ship was overflowing with parents, students, staff and the crew. At twelve noon we sailed amidst confetti, music and waving.

"The cabin I was in was on the top deck. Four other girls and I were to share it for nine days. Our cabin was rather small with five beds, five full-length closets and a wash bowl. Our cabin was practically paradise compared with the dorms down on E Deck where there were fifty students and no closets sharing a room. Oh, I mixed that sentence up! The location of our cabin was the best. The vibration wasn't too bad there compared to the lower decks. The second day on the Atlantic was really bad for us. Almost all of the 752 AFS students and a few chaperones got sick. The next day I was fine as were most of the students. It got so bad the first few days that when anyone left in the middle of a meal the stewards handed a bag and two seasick pills to them.

"The stewards who served the dinner were Indonesians. The only English they knew was the names of food. The meals were divided into three sittings. I had the second sitting at 7:45, 12:15 and 6:00. The German group was divided into smaller groups. At meal time our advisor ate with us. We also had the same advisor for our language class and orientation groups. The 300 German students were divided into groups among the six chaperones or advisors from Germany. Each country had its own advisors. In language class we tried to learn as much of the country's language as was possible in nine days.

"In orientation we were given information about the country's people, history and any general questions we asked. In the afternoons, forums were held on such subjects as integration, our foreign policy,

European culture and our educational system. Some of the other events in an average day were folk-singing, films, calisthenics, talent shows, cheerleaders meeting, newspaper staff meetings, jazz and classical concerts, and sports activities. All of these things were optional to attend.

"Naturally we had social events too. Every night on the main deck or lounge there was dancing. The AFS had given free passage to and from Europe to the Cornell Ivy 5 Plus One. These boys had just graduated from college. They were really a good band and all the students enjoyed their excellent playing. The first few nights it was so crowded that everyone sat on the floor. When the ship rocked to one side everyone slid across the floor. It got to be quite an art to dance (especially fast) while the ship rolled back and forth.

"On June 25 we sighted land at last, the Sicily Islands off the coast of England. The ship docked early the morning of June 26 in LeHavre France. All the students going to France, Spain and Portugal got off here. The rest of us stayed on the ship and later in the afternoon we sailed down the English Channel with the White Cliffs of Dover on one side and France on the other. Friday night we put our suitcases out in front of our door as we had to get up at five the next morning. The ship docked and the luggage was unloaded. We were met by a brass band and the mayor of Rotterdam spoke to us. As the band played the Star

Salvation Army Names Service Unit Chairman

Mrs. Karl Ekberg, 14332 Beacon st., Orland Park Doughnut Day chairman this year, has been named chairman of The Salvation Army's service unit committee of Orland Park.

Four other representative Orland Park residents will serve on the committee with Mrs. Ekberg. They are George Gee Sr., Orland State bank, treasurer; Mrs. Clarence Delsey, of 14671 West ave., nurse of school district No. 135, secretary; Mrs. Chester Williams, 167th and Wolf rd., president of the Orland Park Woman's club, and Chief of Police Jean Yunker.

The Orland Park service unit committee is similar to units operating all over the United States, Salvation Army officials said. Working thru the committee, the Salvation Army will be able to provide rapid help in emergencies and in those cases not covered by established churches or routine welfare programs in the community.

Applications for assistance of every kind should be made by calling Mrs. Ekberg, Fieldbrook 9-3315. Whenever possible, the problem will be solved within the community, but when necessary people will be referred to institutions operated by the Salvation Army in Chicago.

A SUMMER EVENING in the country. Overhead are clouds that threaten rain but most of the sky was clear—at the moment. But one can't be certain when it comes to weather. When one says there isn't a chance of rain he may come home drenched and when he goes prepared for a downpour it frequently clears. As it happened when this picture was taken the sky cleared and it was a nice night.

Orland Wins Police Loop Crown

THE NEWS-BULLETIN
Page 2 Mokena, Illinois Thursday, July 30, 1959

The Orland Park Police team clinched that league's title for the second year in succession and ride atop the league's perch without a loss, after beating Midlothian soundly, 9-3.

Duane Erickson was on the mound again for Bill Zinn's charges and he gave up just two earned runs, while walking only two batters in another pitching victory. Last week Erickson scattered numerous hits over the game to gain an easy verdict over Hazelcrest. Duane struck out nine Midlothian batters.

It would appear that the police boys from Orland should stand a good chance to finish with an unbeaten season. Three games are left on the season's card for them.

Orland scored 9 runs on 9 hits and were greatly aided by 7 bases on balls issued by the Midlothian pitcher, Ridgeway. Still Orland mustered just five earned runs.

However, this team has taken advantage of every opportunity this season. You don't give them the inch and then take it back.

Erickson struck two of the nine hits for Orland in addition to his pitching.

Orland and Midlothian exchanged runs in the first inning and then Orland left no doubt as to the outcome by scoring 4 runs in the top half of the 2nd, taking a 5-1 lead.

Backwood Trails

By ART SCHUMANN

A dog trainer once told me that everyone wants a good dog, but few want to pay the price for one. I guess that's only human nature to want something for nothing, but in dogs, it's rarely, if ever possible. Today the breeder of purebred dogs aims to produce a dog of the breed as near perfection as possible. Whether having a large kennel or raising just one or two litters a year, expenses are high, and often the money he receives for his dogs barely covers the cost.

When looking for a dog, don't buy one too young, but get a pup between 10 weeks and 5 months of age. Don't expect a purebred for a small price. Show prospects and good breeding stock run high, anywhere from $50 to $300. If you're not looking for a show dog, but simply a household pet, you can usually find one very easily and at a nominal cost. A dog's devotion can't be measured in dollars and cents. From the moment you take him home through the rest of his life, his main desire will be to please his master.

In order to get the most out of your dog, you have to have a mutual relationship built on love and understanding. Sometimes it takes time and patience to train a dog, but the rewards at the end are well worth it. Never in my life have I witnessed such devotion for

Orland Park Ruths Defeat Manhattan 14-7

Orland Park's Babe Ruth squad recovered from a 2-1 setback at the hands of New Lenox last Tuesday to shellac Manhattan, 14-7.

Knapp took his first turn on the mound for Orland and was effective enough to win with good hitting support from his mates. He allowed just five hits and walked only three, but shoddy fielding by his mates caused lots of trouble.

Andrew Team Goes 11 Innings to Win Little Majors Championship

A victory Sunday, the second in a playoff series, has made the Andrews Corp. Sox the champions of the Little Majors.

The Sox clinched the title with a 10 to 7 triumph over the Tinley Park Dairy Yanks, but had to go extra innings to do the job.

Each team scored two runs in the first inning with the Sox going ahead, 3 to 2 at the end of the first half of the third. The lead was short lived, however, for when the frame was over the Yanks had two more tallies and led 4 to 3. The Sox matched this run in the fourth to tie it up and there the score stayed until the eighth.

Each team scored three runs in that inning to make it another new game at 7 and 7. The ninth and 10th innings were scoreless but in the 11th the Sox broke loose and put three runs across the plate.

The Yanks were unable to come up with any counters in their half of the frame so the final score was 10-7 for the Sox and the champion-

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By DEAN DALLAS, Sports Editor

Some of the outstanding high school athletes are receiving substantial scholarships for scholastic achievement as well as athletic prowess.

Reed Williams, the long distance runner from Carl Sandburg high school, had offers for his class standing instead of his running ability. This is encouraging.

Bob Rodger's scholastic standing helped him in gaining a bit of financial assistance at the University of Illinois.

Coach Bill Zinn's Orland Park Police team clinched things

a master as dogs owned by Bob Cronholm of Lockport have shown. Bob has been working wonders with his dogs for years and has them doing tricks that are quite unusual.

I remember back when I was knee-high to a katydid and lived up on 18th street in Lockport. Bob owned a dog named King. Each day King would go to the store 3 blocks away with a note in his collar and come back up the street a half hour later, carrying the groceries. He was as dependable as clockwork.

No one — people, squirrels, other dogs, cars or anything else would get the dog's attention while he was running his errand. Never to this day have I seen such an example of mutual trust between dog and master.

Every dog wants to do what he can to earn his keep. Whether it's a hunting dog, watch dog, family pet, a dog used on the farm to bring in the cobs, etc. But when you choose a puppy, choose it wisely. Think beforehand what you want out of a dog and then choose a breed to fit in with your wants.

Holy Name Takes Lead

The St. George Holy Name beat their cousins and fellow members, the Knights, in a tight game, 9-6, to gain a half game on the rest of the Tinley Park Church Softball league. Thus Holy Name appears to have the strong chance of moving away with the league crown. They were the first to topple Zion Lutheran.

The Methodists helped Holy Name into this position by beating the Zion Lutheran team, 13-7. Earlier in the season Zion has easily disposed of the Methodists, but it was a different note in this game.

Holy Name has played one less game, but has sustained only one loss while the Methodists and Lutherans have each lost two games.

In the battle at the bottom the Nazarenes beat Reformed church 16-10.

The first two innings were marked by sloppy play on the part of both the Knights and Holy Name as the Knights galloped out to a 5-3 margin.

This was short lived as Holy Name scored three in the top half of the third to gain the never-relinquished lead, 6-5. From there it was close enough. For Holy Name had to nip a budding rally in the bottom of the seventh with the old "hidden ball" trick.

The Methodists took the lead in the first inning and never let up as they nearly doubled the tally on Zion Lutheran. Errors were very costly to Zion in this contest.

Don Gee connected for a pair of triples for the Methodists and Rich Tindall hit a home run.

Both teams finished with about the same number of hits but Zion's six errors paved the way for the Methodist victory.

After a bad beginning the Nazarenes tightened their defense and shut out the Reformed church over the last three innings to bring home a 16-10 verdict.

Reformed had forged into the lead at the end of the fourth inning, 10-9. The Nazarenes scored 7 and slammed the door on Reformed scoring for the victory.

Hendrickson Fans 14 as Frankfort Beats Manhattan

The Frankfort Small Fry dusted off Manhattan in a league game last week 14-2.

The game was played at Frankfort and was marked by the tight pitching of Gunnar Hendrickson who held Manhattan to six hits. In the course of his chores on the mound Hendrickson fanned 14 batters and walked only one.

Frankfort got 11 hits, one of them a homer by Tom Breymer.

Athletics Beat Tigers 5-4 for Firmer Hold on Homer Loop Flag

STANDINGS OF THE TEAMS

Athletics 8 2 .800

The Athletics gained more ground with a final run in last half of the sixth inning to beat the Tigers, 5-4. Jerry Pochynuk had hit a two run homer for the Tigers to tie the score in the top half of the sixth, but the league leading Athletics came back to ice the game and break out a 1½ game lead over the Tigers.

The last place Cards gave the Tigers a battle for four innings when a home run—good for 3 runs started a deluge. Bowd of the Tigers cracked the homer and then the Tigers scored 12 in the last of the fifth for a 17-2 win.

FATHERS PLAY SONS at Frankfort. But what the outcome was is not known at this writing. The photographer made this picture and went on his way. If any of the participants know who won they have kept it a secret and so it shall remain. The batter, Burnett Schram, is protesting against pitches below the waist, contending they are difficult to see. The catcher was not identified. The game was played Tuesday night. MRS. GLENN PETERSON

Sharon Gaynor of Orland Park Weds Glenn Peterson of Skokie

Trinity Lutheran church, Skokie, was the setting for the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Sharon Dawn Gaynor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gaynor of Orland Park, to Richard Glenn Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Peterson of Skokie.

The bride was exquisitely attired in a chantilly lace gown, fashioned with three quarter length sleeves and scoop neckline embellished with pearls. A taffeta sash circled the empire waist line ending in a flat bow above a magnificent train. The finger tip veil cascaded from a crown of pearls to complete her attire.

Miss Gwen Gaynor, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Mona Gaynor, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Peterson, sister of the bridegroom. They wore periwinkle blue dresses of organza and carried bouquets of carnations and delphinium.

Misses Vicki and Alexis Gaynor, both sisters of the bride, were flower girls. They wore fluffy white dresses of nylon with periwinkle cummerbunds. Their colonial bouquets were of red garnets and white pompons. Kent Gaynor, brother of the bride, served as ringbearer.

The groom, a graduate of Purdue university, will attend the University of Arizona graduate school at Tucson, where the couple will live.

Ramon Gunhouse, Mokena, Weds in Naples, Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gunhouse of Mokena have received word of the marriage of their son, Ramon, to Lorenza Pastori of Naples, Italy.

The wedding was solemnized June 27 in the Holy Spirit Catholic church in Naples.

After a honeymoon trip to Switzerland, the young couple will live in Naples where Ray is stationed. He has two more years on his present assignment in charge of the Naval Photo Laboratory in Naples.

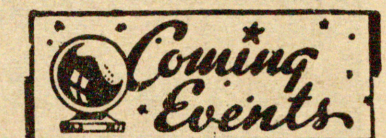

VACCINATE DOGS FOR RABID DISEASES PROVE GOOD

tion of dogs has resulted in a major decline in the number of rabid dogs reported by health authorities.

In 1952, when the state began vaccination, there were 322 cases reported. Last year nine rabid dogs were reported.

The number of cases in the intervening years, according to the state department of Agriculture and Health were: 1953, 174; 1954, 206; 1955, 41; 1956, 59; 1957, 21.

Dr. Thomas G. Scott, head of wildlife research at the Illinois Natural History Survey in Urbana, believes that continuation of the vaccination program should remove dogs from the epidemic cycle but that certain wild mammals will continue to harbor the disease.

Recorder's Office To Microfilm All Instruments Filed

(CNS) — Savings to taxpayers of upward of $100,000 a year are expected in a micro-filming program launched by County Recorder Edmund J. Kucharski.

For the first time, the recorder's office is micro-filming all instruments filed there, including 25 million deeds and other documents recorded for the Cook county public since the Chicago fire of 1871.

Kucharski successfully campaigned for a change by state legislature earlier this year of laws allowing the county to microfilm deeds, liens, mortgages, and other documents such as articles of incorporation and veterans' discharge papers.

"Our new system eliminates the costly process of photostating records in full size, and will reduce by 90 per cent the space now used by the recorder's office for storing files and record volumes," Kucharski said.

"Two other important accomplishments are involved in the microfilming program. It will make accessibility of the records easier for public inspection. And it will provide a security copy of the records to safeguard the property rights of the owners of property and their heirs in the event of flood, fire, or other casualty."

Sponsor Card Party to Defray School Bus Cost

A pyramid card party, sponsored by a group of Palos Heights and Orland Park women, will be held in St. Michael's auditorium, at 8 p.m. Aug. 4.

There will be prizes and free refreshments. All of the proceeds will be given to the pastor, Rev. Frank Coyle, to help defray the bus deficit.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the following: Mrs. James Cahill, Gibson 8-0620; Mrs. Russell Rosowicz, Gibson 8-7721; Mrs. George Jedlicka, Gibson 8-4064; Mrs. Robert Thomas, Gibson 8-1468; Mrs. Lee Holcombe, Gibson 8-9748; Mrs. Bernard Keiran, Gibson 8-3771; Mrs. Harold Reger, Fieldbrook 9-7970; Mrs. Charles Dowling, Gibson 8-4751; Mrs. W. For protection against possible loss by fire or other disaster here, a duplicate film of all micro-filmed records will be stored in the state archives in Springfield, said Kucharski. The fire of 1871 destroyed all of the county's early records in the recorder's office.

Microfilming of all recorded documents dating from 1871 is expected to be a three and a half year job and will be accomplished at no additional cost to taxpayers, he said.

The microfilming program will cost about $35,000 a year.

But the cost of photostat paper, an item averaging $100,000 a year, is now eliminated as well as the $12,000 annual annual rental paid by the county for outside warehouse space for the recorder's records.

In pointing up the benefits of the new system, Kucharski said: "It is essential that governmental agencies keep in mind the destined and anticipated economic growth of Chicago and Cook county with their resultant land development and prepare for it."

Warns Parents Against Misuse Of Plastic Bags

During recent weeks, the popular plastic bags commonly used for packaging have entered headlines as potential hazards to youngsters.

According to the National Safety Council, nearly 30 children have suffocated since January while playing with plastic film.

The tragedies occurred when the plastic material was used on children's beds as pillow and mattress covers, or while a child playfully slipped the bag over his head—using it as a toy.

The only danger in the bags lies in their misuse, according to American Institute of Laundering, national trade association for the professional laundry industry. The Institute cautions that the bags should not be used as playthings by children.

Parents should recognize that these materials are intended for packaging
and not for re-use as play things and especially not in babies' cribs or play-pens.

Plastic is not porous and will not let one breathe thru it, as cloth will. When children put the bags over their heads or across their mouths
and noses, friction can cause an electrostatic charge which causes the plastic to adhere to their faces. The same thing happens when a child turns his face directly down on a pillow or mattress that is covered with plastic.

This material has been in popular commercial use for more than five years. The bags are used by laundries,
dry cleaners, food processors
and varied industries as protective packaging.

Their continued use results from public demand and preference. Customers have found the plastic both appealing and useful. Homemakers have found a wide range of uses for the bags, primarily reusing them for purposes of storage and protective covering. They have become part of everyday living.

To attempt to eliminate these bags would be comparable to doing away with a countless number of household
items, including scissors,
sharp knives, electrical outlets matches, medicines and cleaning compounds, which are also potential dangers for children.

...remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said,
It is more blessed to give than
to receive.—(Acts 20:35.)

It takes most of us at least half a lifetime to appreciate,
through our own personal experience, the truth of the Master But what a blessed,
full and useful life would result if we accepted His words in our youth and lived the long years by them!

Items From an Album of Odors

By JOHN W. ALLEN
(So. Ill. University)

A recent article on sounds that once were common but are now no longer heard drew an appreciative letter from a lady who added: "Nothing arouses memories more than odors, what about a story of lost odors?" Today the wife of a good friend sent a piping hot loaf of home baked bread.
When unwrapped, its fragrance brought to mind the letter with a chain of memories of other delightful odors.

Delving in our aromatic storehouse, the first one recalled was that of almost-done apple butter being made in a large copper kettle over a steadily burning open fire in the backyard. The odor of the apple butter alone was delightful and, when finely grated cinnamon was added
just before cooking was completed, the fragrance was delectable — we think of no better word.

To the memories of the fragrant apple butter
should be added those afforded by wisps of smoke from the wood fire
under the kettle and from piles of ripened apples,
all accented by the natural tang of autumn air.

The smell of a boiling mixture of lye water and soap-grease being made into soap
in an iron kettle over a brisk fire near the ash hopper remains vivid to those who knew
it. This odor, always pungent and changing as the soap nearly the finishing stage, was termed a "clean" odor. Perhaps it was just that the word soap suggested the designation of clean.

The mingled odors coming from a bakery may delight
those presently passing along a city street. The present blend, however, is hardly so appetite-provoking as those that came from the old time oven, indoor or out. This is especially true when comparing aromas we are familiar with today with those that came from the blend of ginger and sorghum used in making the waxy kind of ginger bread and cookies. The present day bakehouse odor fades into insignificance when placed against the gingerbread highlight taken from an oldtimer's smell album.

The smell of almost burned out brush piles and log heaps at nightfall are not easy to forget. Some will remember the distinctive fragrances of the different burning woods,
like sassafras, gum, hickory,
oak, or ash. Those who sawed logs or firewood will recall the distinguishable odors of a half dozen different freshly cut woods. The lingering scents of assorted burning weeds and grasses also make a medley of smell memories.

Men who have plowed newly cleared ground will not forget the particular odor of the freshly turned earth, which was not at all like that of old fields. In the same locality, this odor changed with the wetness of the soil and with the type of undergrowth.

The delightful aroma of warm wild honey will linger
with those who cut bee trees.
The sagey, peppery smell of home made sausage, far different from the packing house variety, is not easily forgotten. The parched smell of the cracklings left when lard was rendered would suggest shortnin' bread. The smell of meat in the well stocked smokehouse always provoked hunger.

The faint smell of cured
tobacco in a tobacco barn
was different, and pleasing even to those not using "the weed." It was interesting to watch a prospective buyer pick up a hand of tobacco and delicately sniff it. The freshness of corn meal
could be rather accurately gauged by a sensitive nose. Bacon, broken eggs, milk, butter and left-over foods, in fact almost everything, including freshly laundered clothes came

Faulty Operation of Septic Tanks Brings Suits Against Contractors

(CNS)—Septic tank systems installed for two homes in Bremen township in 1957 form
the basis of $1,000 damage suits, perhaps the first of their kind here, filed by the state's attorney's office against the builders in County court.

The suits represent performance bonds of $1,000 each put up by the builders with the county to assure good working order of the systems for a period of two years from date of installation.

The suits, filed by Richard
A. Filler, assistant state's attorney, allege the tank installations now are faulty in operation. Thus, the county now is demanding forfeiture of the performance bonds in order to spend that money on repairs.

The litigation probably is the first attempt by Cook county to collect on such bonds in a move to correct unsatisfactory septic tank installations. Filler said. A similar suit was filed simultaneously in Circuit court involving a septic tank installation in western Lyons township.

Required under a 1956 county zoning ordinance amendment, the performance bonds
must be posted before a building permit is issued.

In one case, the county is seeking a judgment of $1,000
with interest and costs against Joseph A. Kluck, who posted the bond to obtain a permit for a house at 16320 S. Mark lane, Tinley Park. The bond was executed by the Summit
Fidelity and Surety company, named co-defendant.

The tank system was ground saturation. Filler

said the effluent at times ran over the floor of the

The second Bremen township case was filed against Michael

Aetna Insurance Co., for faulty

In both cases, the contrac-

There were barnyard and horsey smells that have given way to those of gasoline and stinking oils. Along with the barn and horsey smells have gone those of harness and tanned leather in the old harness and shoe shops. Many will recall the sickening odor
of a smoker's strong clay pipe which was almost as bad as that of the asafetida that some youngsters wore about their necks to prevent their "taking diseases." Also gone is the smell of the keroseneturbentine rag worn around the neck to cure a sore throat.
There was the schoolroom's sulphury smell of someone smeared for scabies. Some country children will even recall the first time they smelled coal smoke. Some men will recall the stale beer odor they encountered as boys when they passed an 'out of bounds'
saloon.

Finally, this album of odors
could not be closed without mention of the distinct and pervasive odor of dusty threshing machines on hot July days. Remembering that fragrance cannot be recorded nor satisfactorily preserved, everyone should carefully stock his aroma album.

The fact that a steel strike has started, was a surprise to many an astute observer. They believed that union negotiators would gain a few "face saving" benefits in the negotiation and no real strike would take place.

Their reasoning was that it might be bad politics at this time and that union leaders are very alert to public pressures.

The aluminum worker's labor contract expires shortly as does that of major railway
labor unions.

It is expected that American railroads intend to follow the lead of the Canadian roads and make a determined effort to rid their labor contracts of "feather bedding."

These so called feather bedding rules call for labor payments based on operating conditions of many years ago.
Some require payment on an hourly basis or mileage basis whichever is greater. The mil-age basis is based on the older days, when division
points were 200 to 250 miles apart and this mileage then constituted about a day's work.
In general feather bedding is payment for work not actually done.

The steel industry is faced with increasing competition from aluminum and newly discovered plastics. They are also meeting competition from foreign steel. The steel industry, as well as others, have had feather bedding problems which have grown up thru the years and protected by labor contract provisions.

No one wanted the steel strike but we have it and the government shows no signs of intervention.

Inflation now will be a considerable factor in the national elections. Without wage increases in the building trades and other small segments of the labor force, the wage price spiral has been working slowly and the drop in food costs has obscured this fact. Food costs are now rising somewhat.

In any analysis, it must be kept in mind that only about 25 per cent of the labor force are unionized. Pressure from the unorganized majority is only now making itself felt.

The railroad contract expires in October and by mid September it is believed that inventoried steel will be very low. It is expected that the government will then invoke
the Taft Hartley Act and an 80 day cooling off period with no strike. It is then thought that a compromise will be worked out.

Industry, generally, will not be hurt by the strike if it ends as expected, but steel production will be stepped up greatly after the strike to bring inventories back to normal levels.

Industry is anxious to stop
the constant wage increases
with the wage price spiral
given a new push.

The rise in interest rates
will have a far reaching effect. Prior to the increase in interest rates, it cost about $8 billion to service the direct government debt or about 10 per cent of the budget. A 25 per cent increase would mean a cost of at least $10 billion total for this item. The latest short term government bonds had to pay 4.75 per cent to attract investors. This is likely to be a major political issue.

In Will county assessments are made by township assessors. There is no assessor for the county.

Dallstream was quoted as saying that the request by farmers to keep farming classifications in the Cook county zoning ordinance "is under consideration and that no final decision will be made until all hearings are completed and everyone is heard."

In recent hearings, Dallstream said, representatives of cities and villages in the suburbs demanded that more unincorporated land near their borders be set aside for industry.

They are so burdened with taxes that residential property can no longer carry the load, it was contended, and so some who a few years ago sought to ban industry are now endeavoring to attract it to their towns.

Dallstream told them "zoning is not a magic wand that automatically attracts industry."

In commenting on this statement, Maurice P. Angland, chairman of the Mokena Plan Commission, said that everyone would agree that zoning land for any specific purpose did not assure its use as such. He pointed out, however, "that locators of property for industry, wanted assurance that the sites viewed would not have to battle encroachment by residential developments."

"From the map prepared by the Cook county zoning board" Angland said, "it looks like the idea is to make suburban areas 'bed room' districts for people who work in the metropolitan areas, and close off potential industrial districts by permitting residential development willy nilly. The industrial valuations and the bonding power, as well as taxes, would thus accrue to the metropolitan district."

He added that the experts on planning advise, as a good rule of thumb, 60 per cent residential development, 20 per cent commercial and 20 per cent industrial.

"Industry is not going to move into an area where the tax pattern has been set by an unbalanced development," Angland said. "Industry doesn't like the role of martyr and stockholders can fire presidents, as well as lower echelons only presidents have a tougher time getting another job of like rank."

Politics as well as economics is playing a part in the urban renewal efforts, Angland contends, pointing out that the politicians controlling the slum areas do not want to lose their voters and therefore, are still retaining slums. They are just putting a new roof over them, and giving them new walls, he said.

Stratton Signs Special Speed Law for Schools

(CNS) A new law allowing a special low speed limit of 20 miles an hour next to schools has been signed by Gov. Stratton.

This change in the 1957 traffic code, which established a minimum speed limit of 30 miles an hour, was demanded by many Parent Teacher Association units and civic organizations.

The bill signed by the governor last week establishes a special speed limit of 20 miles an hour for motor vehicles passing schools, when the streets are properly posted, and when traveling on a thoroughfare which children use in passing to and from school.

Another bill signed into law permits the Cook County Board to levy a county highway tax for maintenance of highway construction equipment and the construction of offices.

tions were a reflection on our families, homes, country and the AFS. I think that half of Rotterdam could hear us.

"The thirty German students were the first to get off. We were immediately put on a special train by individual groups that depended upon which part of Germany we were going to. Outside of the city the train was stopped while a man with wooden shoes washed the windows. We were stopped at the German border and passports were examined. The train went straight through to Dusseldorf, Germany, where some of us spent the night with host families and others had a few hours layoff. My host family took me on a tour of Dusseldorf. It seemed that everywhere we went there were more AFS'ers to be seen. Three hundred of us were in the city at the same time. Early the next morning about thirty of us left on another train for Stuttgart. The other ten stayed on the train until various cities. Another boy and I got off the train at Ulm. Here we were to catch separate trains to our host families. As soon as I got off one train I was to step on another for Blaubeuren where I would spend the summer. At Blaubeuren I was met by my "sister," Gabbi Lang.

July 9, Gabbi, her classmates and I are going on a three day excursion. Late in July Gabbi and I will go to Munich for two weeks. "I want to thank Lincoln-Way and the rest of the AFS committee at school for selecting me and giving me the chance to come here. Everything is simply grand but it is quite a change to think of myself as a foreigner. When I come home I know I will appreciate everything much, much more. We didn't realize the great many things we have, the advantages, the opportunities, until we have a chance to compare and contrast them.

"Also, another thing I didn't fully realize was the largeness of AFS. California has 97 students overseas. Dusseldorf has 4 students participating in the exchange program this summer. Some schools have had exchange students for over seven years. At one school in California seventy students were competing for four places to be sent. Many schools have or will get two foreign students. Other schools have formed clubs and raise much money. A school in New Jersey has $2000 set aside for exchange students.

"These are typical examples of how large AFS has become only in the U. S.

20 Attending Church Camp at Syracuse, Ind.

By ELIZABETH B. ANDERSON
Lockport 886W2

Twenty people from Homer church and Sunday school left Sunday for a week's camp at Syracuse, Ind., at a camp sponsored by the Central Association of Congregational churches. Rev. James Elvig and John Hollister are members of the camp committee.

Permits for three new homes in Homer twp. have recently been obtained, one for a $25,000 home at Cedar and Walnut by Geo. A. Cernak of Chicago; a second by James R. Murphy for an $11,000 house on Spring Creek rd. and the third by William R. Cottrell of Chicago, for an $18,000 dwelling on Park rd. north of Rte. 6.

The Prima African Violet club enjoyed picnic dinner at the home for Mrs. William Ziesemer, Rte. 7, Tuesday of last week. Fried chicken was the main dish.

Mary Ann and Carrie Becker of Lockport spent a few days of last week with Betty Anderson. They attended the student dance Thursday evening at 330 and the ball game between the Tigers and Cardinals Friday evening at Reed school.

On Monday evening the Athletics played the Tigers with a score of 4 to 5 in favor of the Athletics; on Friday the Tigers defeated the Cardinals 17 to 2. Pochynik was the outstanding player at Mondays game and Bond at the Friday game.

The Wayside Workers' Circle of Kings Daughters will meet at Homer church Thursday, Aug. 6 at one o'clock, with Mrs. Henry Rodgers as hostess.

The Missionary society held their picnic dinner in the church basement Thursday, as rain prevented the outdoor dinner as planned. The Rev. Byron Reynolds and ten women from Rosemoor church were visitors and at the afternoon meeting, the women's work of Central Association was discussed. Mrs. Robert Burch led the devotionals; Mrs. Vera Waldvogel presided. Thirty four adults and 15 children attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Proper have returned from their honeymoon and are living at 517 High st., Joliet. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Proper Sr., Bruce and Cedar rds., Homer twp. and his bride was Miss Janet Ackerman, daughter of the Jesse G. Ackermans of Joliet. They were married June 13, at Trinity Methodist church, Joliet.

Several people from here attended the 4H Achievement Day program at Haven school in New Lenox, Friday afternoon. Judy Termunde, Susan Reed and Linda Shepherd were among those who gave demonstrations.

They are members of the New Lenox Blue Bird club. Mrs. Arthur Shepherd of West

Lockport gave a talk and demonstration on modeling. Exhibits from each club will be on display at the Peotone 4-H Show, Aug. 5 and 6.

Faye Anderson and David Bier were among those who attended 4H camp at Sha Waw Nas See last week. Mrs. David H. Bier was one of the camp counselors.

The John Mark family moved from the Anderson house on Cedar rd. where they have lived for about five years, to a home in New Lenox last week.

It is the wives of Farm Bureau members who are promoting the "Clear the Corners" movement thru out the county rather than the Home Bureau units as reported last week. It is well known that there are many road crossings with crops or weeds growing so close to the road as to provide a definite menace to motorists. It is hoped that everyone having such a corner on their property will quickly clear it.

The Homer Lockport Home Bureau unit met for a picnic at Dellwood Park Wednesday, July 22.

The Homer Fire Auxiliary will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, Aug. 3 at 8 o'clock. Members are asked to bring scissors and old rags for a planned project. The meetings are held at Homer Consolidated school.

Cheryl Sass and Katherine Bier have received teacher education scholarships which entitles them to four years' tuition to any one of five state teacher training institutions: Normal, Western, Eastern, Northern or Southern universities. If they accept the scholarship, and receive their teaching degree, they are required to teach in the state public schools for at least two years. Eligibility for such scholarships means that they have ranked in the upper half of their H. S. class and have filed notice that they intend to become teachers.

Church services will be held as usual at Homer church on Aug. 2, although the church camp does not close until that day. Rev. Elvig expects to return for the service.

On Thursday night of last week, the P. F. group of the church held a work session at the church followed by refreshments on the lawn.

Donations to the rummage sale to be sponsored by the Homer Fire Auxiliary on Aug. 14 and 15 will be appreciated. Contact Mrs. B. D. Brankey, Mrs. Frank Townsend or Mrs. Fred Gebert for information, or Mrs. Frank Paul, president.

Mrs. John Riley and daughter Mary Helen, Mrs. John H. Sibar, Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mrs. Charles Ingram and daughter Alyce spent Friday at Santa's Village near Dundee, Ill. on Friday.

Miss Debbie Vogt, Miss Kimberly Vogt and Kenneth Vogt of Allegan, Mich. are spending two weeks in the home of their grandfather, Frank Liszt.

Dr. J. Lloyd Trump, director of the workshop, headed a commission on the experiment al study of the utilization of the staff in the secondary school and for the past several years has worked with a number of school systems on teacher organization.

Dr. Trump predicts that in the not too distant future the instructional staff of the high school will include the following kinds of personnel:

Professional teachers: this includes experienced teachers who demonstrate career interests and abilities.

General teachers: these people are qualified, certified persons with less experience. Instructional assistants: A group of technicians carefully selected on the basis of training and experience who are able to do specific parts of the teacher job to aid the professional staff.

Clerks: who will do routine duties which are part of the instructional program.

General aides: who will assist in supervising students in large areas as the school grounds, cafeteria, corridors and auditorium.

Community consultants: these people are used as resource persons for specific assignments.

This type of an organization would enable the professional people to spend more time in keeping up with new developments in their subject fields and to work out new and better methods of presenting material to the students.

One-key control: only Chevy in its field has done away with fumbling for two or three keys. The same key unlocks the door, starts the engine, opens the glove box and trunk.

WHY DO WITHOUT THIS CONVENIENT LITTLE TOUCH... LET ALONE

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

BIGGER BRAKES

Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

GREATER ROOMINESS

Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make this point abundantly clear. For example, Chevy's front seat room is up to 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

MOST ADVANCED ENGINES

We'll let SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED talk about Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And every motor magazine concurs! There are eight V8's to pick from—the widest choice in Chevy's field.

FRESH STYLING

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine's experts took one look and said, "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling."

HIGHER TRADE-IN

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books carry the proof of Chevy's extra trade-in value. They show that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to a solid $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevy's field.

*National Automobile Dealers Association

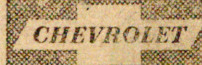

FULL COIL RIDE

You've almost got to find a really rocky road to show off Chevy's easygoing ride to full advantage. MOTOR TREND magazine gives you an idea, though: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

BIGGER SAVINGS

Two Chevrolets packing our pennypinching 6 with Powerglide delivered a whopping 22.38 mpg in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, winning the first two places in their class and walking away with top honors among all full-size cars. How can you argue with a figure like that?

No wonder more people are buying Chevrolets in '59 than any other car

Editorials

Summer is marching along and while it has a couple of months to go before giving way officially to autumn we believe we are safe in saying that the grass cutting season has now passed the halfway mark.

There was a lot of snow shoveling to do last winter and the general belief was that the growth of grass this summer would keep one just as busy.

We are happy to report that as far as we are concerned this has not been the case. By this we do not mean to imply that we have been having a rocking chair summer and hired the work done. It's just that for some reason the grass in our neighborhood has been slow to grow.

Whether it has been a deficiency of rain or the soil is suffering from some blight or has failed to rally from last winter's protracted zero spell is not known. But the fact remains that large segments of the lawn front and back remain brown and bare, as the poet says about fall, but we haven't been melancholy about it.

Fortunately our yard is not the only one in the neighborhood to be affected. All up and down the street the yards are the same so we can go and come openly and not sink in thru the alley, ashamed that we have let down the neighbors.

We admit that the lawns do not look as pretty as when they are all green but certainly one cannot cut the grass under such conditions. At least we are so convinced.

We notice, however, that recent rains have restored some of the color and stimulated growth.

So any day now the cry may come to man the mower and we shall be forced to resume our regular weekly chore of cutting, trimming, raking and sweeping, and thus keep up with the Joneses.

We would not wish to leave the impression that our gardening and landscaping endeavors have been unsuccessful. Quite the contrary. We say with becoming modesty that we possess a green thumb and point to a fine stand of crab grass and various weeds in support of this statement.

Most people cannot show flourishing dandelions at this time of the year but we have some that are truly luxuriant and only the other day we dug up some very choice young thistles in the front yard.

We endeavor to keep the thistles confined to the flower beds but sometimes they get away. While mulling over some earth shaking questions a couple of weeks ago—don't ask now what they were—we inadvertently cut down a fair sized clump of chrysanthemums, but missed a fine, big specimen of burdock.

The milkweed looks promising and if we aren't careful we may find ourselves with an excellent stand of timothy hay and the start of a couple of Trees of Heaven. What appears to be a Chinese elm has also edged into the picture as well as some tough looking shrub or tree with pods shaped like Japanese lanterns.

Taking care of all these things and seeing to it that they are not crowded out by the flowers takes quite a bit of doing so you can see that not having to spend all of one's leisure time at grass cutting is a real help.

Given a choice between cutting grass and shoveling snow—a fearful dilemma—we would choose to battle the grass. It would be a boon to man, however, if one of these scientific johnnies would just come up with a grass seed that would grow blades up to two, two-and-a-half inches in height, and then hold them there for the remainder of the season, he would be doing a great service to urban and suburban dwellers.

If this gives you the idea that we are lazy you are so right. There is a robot lawnmower on the market now but the price is still pretty well on the up side. If they come to sell within reason and an automatic snow shoveler is perfected that is also not too dear, man will be able to take summer and winter at peace and at ease.

Signing of Farmers for Soil Conservation Starts August 3

A new sign up period for farmers desiring to carry out approved soil conservation practices under the Agricultural Conservation program begins Aug. 3, according to information from Roy Smith, chairman of the local ASC committee.

This should be of particular interest to farmers who need limestone and rock phosphate. Aug. 3 is the first date by which sign up is permitted for such materials to be used during the last five months of the year. All materials must be applied according to soil test and must be used in connection with soil improving grasses and legumes.

Other important practices that are available include sod waterways, pasture improvements, toe walls, tile outlets, and additional winter cover seedings. Of this group preference is given to farmers desiring to install sod waterways pasture improvements, toe walls and tile outlets. The Soil Conservation service is cooperating in furnishing technical services on certain of these practices.

After Aug. 14, requests for practices can be accepted only if funds therefor are available at the time. All requests for cost sharing assistance under the program must be filed at the county office located at 1256 W. Jefferson st., Joliet. A request must be on file before a practice is started. Farmers interested in practices involving limestone or other materials should bring along their soil tests.

The awakening comes when the stuff arrives and he has a chance to try a pipeful. As he tosses it away he vows never again and means it—until he reads another catalog.

This writer has been smoking the same brand now for several years and likes it but still takes a flyer now and then at the behest of some inspired copy writer in describing the mellow, fragrance of Old Cordwood or some other concoction.

Pipe smokers not only spend a lot of money on pipes, tobacco and matches but are also good customers of haberdashers, clothing stores and establishments that specialize in weaving and mending.

Those sparks that come sailing out of pipes burn a lot of holes in clothes.

That's one reason why one will never find a nudist smoking a pipe while sitting on a windy hill top.

WANT ADS GET RESULTS

On Second Thot

By
Glenn F. Logan

Pipe smokers are a gullible lot. They also may be tabbed as incurable optimists.

They sometimes get credit for being deep thinkers or philosophers because they sit there puffing away with a contented, complacent look in their eyes. But don't let that fool you.

This look may stem from a variety of causes. It may be that he is wondering if his wife remembered to pick up some of the parlor matches he had been forgetting, but is too comfortable at the moment to get up and see for himself.

It may be that he is considering if there is an actual advantage of the curved stem over the straight, the smoker having his own teeth and a strong jaw.

Or he may be running thru remembered phrases of tobacco ads that charm and cajole.

A pipe smoker is forever looking for the perfect pipe and the perfect tobacco. Some times one hears of someone finding such a combination but such an announcement doesn't stir even a ripple in the fraternity. The reason is simple—what suits one smoker may tear the tongue and tonsils out of another.

An odd thing about pipe smokers is that while they are willing to try any tobacco they read about they are quite skeptical of recommendations by fellow users of the weed.

Offer a pouch with the casual remark that you have just found a tobacco you think is pretty good and how about trying some.

Nine out of 10 will shy off. The excuses will be plausible but you know and they know you know that the real reason for the refusal is the fear they will find the tobacco to be quite a fearful, concoction with a bite like a Bengal tiger and they don't want to be critical of your taste or judgment.

The unwritten law among pipe smokers is that every man is entitled to his own poison.

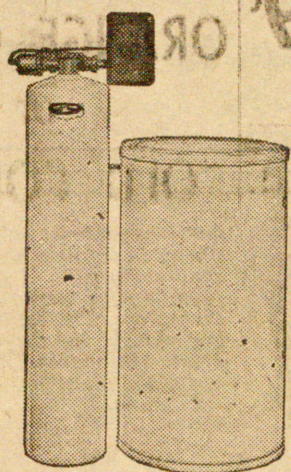

How some smokers can stand the combinations of buggy whip, mattress stuffing plus a generous portion from some compost bed is difficult to understand. They not only smoke it but like it.

There are hundreds of pipe tobaccos on the market and while it is probable that quite a few of them are practically the same thing except for a change in names there are enough differences to make one marvel. And in addition to those mixed and sold in shops and stores there are the countless more of home mixed blends.

Millions of dollars are spent on pipe tobacco every year and it is probably a toss up as to whether as much was expend-

Coordinating Council is Formed To Provide Community Services

By EVELYN VAN HORN
Sycamore 8-8921

About 20 representatives of civic, religious, and service organizations attended a meeting in the city hall July 22, to discuss the formation of a Community Coordinating Council. Held under the sponsorship of the Parent Teacher association, the meeting was called by Roger Chavanne, president.

All agreed, after each representative reported on planned future activities of their organizations, that a Coordinating Council would be beneficial to the community to avoid duplication of programs.

The working unit of the Council will consist of representatives appointed from each participating group who will meet regularly or on call. Chavanne was elected chairman. He will form a sub-committee to investigate the possible use of a suitable building within Country Club Hills, excluding the new school, to be used as a community building, which was deemed most lacking in the community.

Other facilities most needed besides a community center, it was expressed, are community information, baseball diamonds, leaders for community services, better community understanding, and a children's library.

The newly formed Council hopes that new organizations and those not now represented will send representatives to the next meeting or contact Chavanne at Sycamore 8-9590, so the abilities and strength of each organization may be combined to more efficiently solve problems.

United Christian Church

On Sunday, July 26, Dr. John Harms was guest speaker at the United Christian church. The lay leaders for the services were: 9:30, John Cox, 11:00, Robert Landeen.

The executive board will meet Aug. 5.

Vacation church school starts soon. It is still possible to enroll children to attend the school from Aug. 10-15. Any child entering kindergarten up thru 6th grade is eligible. Call Mrs. Richard Armistead, SY 8-0015.

Public Hearing

A public hearing was held at city hall July 23, on the rezoning of Cline Nursery from R-1, special use, to commercial. No one registered to express an opinion for or against the rezoning.

During testimony, Cline revealed he was seeking the rezoning because of the difficulties which would arise should he desire to sell the property. At the present time it could only be sold as a nursery, revert to farm land, or be sold for residential use.

The hearing was held by the zoning board of appeals, of which Larry Simon is chairman.

Cline owns 20 acres and a building 42x12 feet. He plans to build a greenhouse 40x50 feet and to enlarge his propagating field, he testified.

In answer to questions by members of the board, Cline advised that he did not plan to sell the property, traffic would not be increased, and that he has received no complaints for residents. He explained that the rows of Norway pines bordering the property makes a pleasant view to surrounding residents and that with the use of commercial fertilizers, there is no offensive odor.

Clarence Leek and O. H. Becker, Red Cross representatives, recently completed a Red Cross training course at Chicago headquarters. They are now qualified to serve in case of disaster, such as flood, fire, tornado etc.

Should a disaster strike, they are capable of setting up headquarters at the scene. They have volunteered their services on 24-hour call. Their phone numbers are: Leek, Sycamore 8-0649; Becker, Sycamore 8-3097.

Cub Scout Picnic

Although many were unable to attend the Cub Scout family picnic last Sunday at the 182nd street Woods, those who did enjoyed the events. A well planned program of games and other activities, including races, scavenger hunt, ball throwing competition and watermelon eating contest, kept young and old well entertained.

The Cub Scouts play softball every Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. at the athletic field, 179th and John. All Cubs are welcome to join the group.

Baptist Church

The Bible school program conducted by the Baptist church was well attended. 88 children plus teachers and helpers attended the school which convened for two weeks July 6-17. An evening parents program was held at the end of Bible school on Thursday, July 16, at which time about 75 parents heard their children recite Bible verses and other memory work.

Sunday services are held at the Baker schools: 9:45 Sunday school and 11 a.m. church service. Anyone desiring information about the church, may call Rev. C. Reaka, FU 8-7133.

Women's Club

The Women's club will hold an impromptu picnic Thursday, Aug. 6 at the 182nd street woods from 12 noon 'til 3 p.m. Each member is welcome to bring a guest and their children to romp in the woods. Bring your picnic lunch and blankets.

Baseball

Over 60 boys have been participating regularly in the summer baseball program set up by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. To date four specific teams have been set up and every boy who wants to play ball has had his chance. The teams, Braves, Cubs, Yankees and Sox have practiced sessions about twice a week, with one game played each week.

Although unorganized this year, the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are now working to form Little League teams next year.

Frank Formas, Thomas Deem, Emil Van Tichelt, Harold Tetens, Jerry Bette Jr., Stanley Supulowski as well as several fathers of the boys have been helping manage, umpire and coach. More help is needed and any man in the community who would be interested in this are asked to contact Emil Van Tichelt, SY 9-5390.

Boys who want to play ball and have not as yet participated are still welcome and can report to the athletic field 179th and John, Saturdays at 9 a.m. or 3 p.m.

"What's the best way to get a loan quickly?"

Generally speaking, it is to borrow on collateral. The logic of this is readily apparent: If a lender can hold, against what he lends, property of equal or greater value, the time required to check into the prospective borrower's financial status can be minimized. The cash value of life insurance policies, savings account balances, good marketable securities are acceptable collateral for loans here at low rates. If a speedy loan is necessary to your plans, bring us your collateral without delay, and learn just how much money we can lend you on it.

The soybean variety trial on the Henry Andresen farm, 167th street, west of Rt. 45, looks quite good. There are eight varieties of soybeans in this trial, Lincoln, Adams, Hawkeye, Harosoy, H-H, Lindarin, Shelby and Chippewa. If you are in the neighborhood stop in and take a look at this variety trial.

The oat plots on the Raymond Bernard farm, 179th and Wolf road, are showing some significant difference in maturity dates and disease resistance. If you haven't had a chance to look at the oat plots, it would be wise to do so soon, since they will be harvested quite soon.
